Vision, Mission, Core Values

VISION

PLATO, the Participatory Learning and Teaching Organization, promotes opportunities for intellectual and cultural enrichment for the senior community.

MISSION

PLATO is a member-directed participatory learning-in-retirement organization committed to develop and provide learning, teaching, and social opportunities for its members in association with the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and to provide scholarship support for returning adult students or such other charitable purposes as the Board of Directors may determine.

CORE VALUES

- Foster active participation by all members in planning and conducting learning and teaching events in a variety of formats.
- Provide member-designed and member-led study and discussion groups, lectures, tours and other learning events.
- Maintain a creative member-driven organization with independent control of its finances, curriculum and administration in association with the University of Wisconsin-Madison.
- Provide an open and welcoming social environment for new and continuing members as they learn, share and teach.
- Keep members fully informed about PLATO's programs, operations, and finances through traditional and emerging communications media.
- Collaborate with other entities serving senior learners.

PLATO Structure

Board of Directors

Comprised of 5 elected officers: President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary and Immediate Past-President, plus 5 At-large Directors, and the chairs of each standing committee. The Board collaborates with the University's Division of Continuing Studies (DCS), which provides PLATO with an office and part-time staff as part of the DCS mission to enhance senior learning (Contact: Louise Fowler louise.fowler@wisc.edu, 262-5823). A representative from DCS is a non-voting member of the Board.

Standing committees

- Curriculum: Organizes a balanced educational program of courses proposed and led by members. Co-chairs: Kathy Brown (kathyft@charter.net) and Therese Stevens (thmstevens@gmail.com)

- Finance: Advises the Treasurer on financial matters.
Chair/Treasurer: Kevin Gould (kgould@charter.net)

- Fund Development: Coordinates PLATO's charitable fundraising.
Chair: Tim Otis (tierneyotis@gmail.com)

- Membership & Communication: Ensures a positive introduction to PLATO and works to understand and optimize members' experiences and satisfaction with the organization. Develops communication options to enable understanding of PLATO's mission and the learning and teaching opportunities we provide.
Chair: Hedy Lukas (hedylukas@gmail.com)

- Special Events: Develops an extensive program of bus trips, topical lectures and social events as member interests dictate, as well as providing hospitality for key events.
Chair: Carla DiIorio (carlad@tds.com)

- Technology: Oversees PLATO's website, researches new technologies, trains members to run the website and assists other committees in utilizing the website and other technology tools.
Chair: Scott Kolar (kolarmmj@gmail.com)

Special/ad hoc committees

- Diversity: Works to foster and assist PLATO members in learning about the issues of diversity, inequality, and injustice in the greater Madison area and to promote a culturally inclusive learning environment in PLATO.
Chair: Frank Power (franpwr@aol.com)

- The Agora: Journal of arts and ideas, created for and by PLATO members. Submissions in prose, poetry, and the visual arts are juried for inclusion.
Managing Editor: Patricia Becker (ptbecker@wisc.edu)

Have an idea for a PLATO Course?

Here's how easy it is to become a Coordinator...

WHAT? Courses generally follow one of three formats:

1. Discussion – the group decides on topics for discussion; the coordinator and/or participants rotate leadership.
2. Lecture/discussion – the coordinator or various participants of the group give a presentation or show a video followed by a discussion.
3. Straight lecture – the coordinator has special expertise in a subject and is willing to share.

WHO? One or more coordinators may lead the course or leadership may be passed among participants in the group. In the latter, one person is responsible for assigning weekly leaders and for any necessary organizational work.

WHEN? There are 4 periods when PLATO courses are offered: Winter Interim; Spring; Summer; and Fall. Spring and Fall classes are usually scheduled within a 10-week semester with 2-hour sessions each week. Winter and Summer Interim sessions usually run for 3 to 5 weeks. The number of weeks, length of meetings, and beginning and end dates may be adjusted to fit the schedule of the coordinator and/or the amount of material to be covered depending on space availability at the selected host site.

WHERE? Programs are held in meeting rooms in senior centers, community centers, churches, banks and retirement centers. The Curriculum Committee assists the coordinator with finding a suitable site.

HOW? A simple form (on reverse side) is submitted to the Curriculum Committee and program ideas are reviewed at the next meeting. The Committee will assist the coordinator in finding suitable space at a time agreeable to the coordinator and, when needed, assist in planning for curriculum and/or audio-visual equipment and other special needs.

MATERIALS? Copies of a course syllabus can be made at the PLATO/DCS Office but participants are responsible for the cost of printing other written materials.

PROPOSAL DEADLINES? Fall Semester – June 1; Winter (Interim) – October 1;
Spring Semester – October 1; Summer (Interim) – March 15

The Curriculum Committee is designed to develop & encourage new leaders.

ARTICLE I—NAME

The name of this organization shall be Participatory Learning and Teaching Organization, hereafter referred to as PLATO or “the organization.”

ARTICLE II—OFFICES

The office of this organization shall be located in Madison, Wisconsin.

ARTICLE III—AFFILIATION

This organization is affiliated with the University of Wisconsin-Madison (UW), and the Division of Continuing Studies (DCS), and is subject to the applicable rules and policies of the University.

ARTICLE IV—MISSION

PLATO is a member-directed and participatory learning-in-retirement organization committed to develop and provide learning, teaching, and social opportunities for its members, in association with the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and to provide scholarship support for returning adult students or such other charitable purposes as the Board of Directors may determine.

ARTICLE V—GOVERNANCE

The organization shall be governed by these bylaws and by such policies and procedures as may be established and recorded by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI—MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. Qualification. Members of PLATO shall be men and women most of whom are retired or semi-retired, and who are willing to commit time and energy to themselves and others through exchange of knowledge in a continuing learning process.

Section 2. Term. The term of membership shall be for one year, from July 1 to June 30.

Section 3. Dues and Fees. The dues to become a member of PLATO shall be an amount determined annually by PLATO's Board of Directors, in conjunction with the University Liaison. In addition to the membership dues, there may be fees required for participation in particular courses, tours, trips, lectures, or activities offered by PLATO or UW-Madison.

Section 4. Privileges. Members shall be entitled to the following privileges:

1. Participation in courses.
2. Participation in tours, trips, lectures, and other educational activities sponsored by PLATO.
3. Participation in the annual meeting in May and in social events.
4. Nominating and voting for PLATO officers and directors.
5. Receiving a copy of these Bylaws.
6. Receiving on a regular basis print and electronic communications from PLATO.

ARTICLE VII—MEETINGS

The annual all-member meeting will be held in May of each year. At least one month advance notice of this meeting will be published.

ARTICLE VIII—ADMINISTRATIVE AND FISCAL YEAR

The administrative and fiscal years for this organization shall be July 1 to June 30.

ARTICLE IX—OFFICERS

Section 1. Number and Qualification. This organization shall have four elected officers: President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer, and one officer that is not elected: Immediate Past President. All officers shall be members in good standing of PLATO.

Section 2. Election and Terms of Office. Officers shall be elected by members in good standing of PLATO. Elected officers shall be those receiving the greatest number of votes cast. The election method shall be as determined by the President. Terms of office shall be for one administrative year, but officers may be elected for successive terms.

Section 3. Duties. The following citation of officers' duties is not necessarily exhaustive or exclusive:

1. The President, as Chief Executive, shall call Board of Directors meetings, preside over meetings, and coordinate the activities of the organization in accord with such policies and procedures as may be developed.
2. The Vice President shall fulfill the duties of the President in his or her absence and undertake additional responsibilities as needed.
3. The Secretary shall prepare, distribute, and file minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors, the annual meeting, and other all-member meetings. The University/DCS shall keep the permanent, official file of these minutes.
4. Under the overall supervision of the Board, the Treasurer is responsible for the management of finances and business activities of PLATO. The Treasurer shall maintain the financial records of the organization. The Treasurer shall prepare an annual budget with projections of revenues and expenses, in consultation with Board Members and Standing Committee Chairs. The Treasurer will report the organization's current financial status at all regular Board of Director meetings, and prepare an annual report at the end of each fiscal year, which will be submitted to the Board of Directors.
5. Money signature authority for PLATO shall reside with the Treasurer and the current President.
6. The Immediate Past President shall chair the Nominating Committee and will assume the lead role in re-negotiating the bi-annual Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) with UW/DCS.

Section 4. Executive Committee. The five officers shall compose an Executive Committee that has responsibility for evaluating organizational needs and managing the on-going operations of PLATO under the policies established by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE X—BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. Directors. The Board of Directors shall include as voting members:

1. The five officers of PLATO: President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Immediate Past President.
2. A representative from each Standing Committee, as determined by the Committee Chair.
3. Five At-large Directors.

Section 2. University Liaison. The Division of Continuing Studies will appoint a representative to be a non-voting member of the Board.

Section 3. Qualification. With the exception of a University representative, all Directors shall be members in good standing of PLATO.

Section 4. Ex Officio Directors. The officers of PLATO, the Immediate Past President, and the representatives of the Standing Committees shall be ex officio Directors.

Section 5. At-large Directors. At-large directors shall be elected by members in good standing of PLATO. Elected Directors shall be those receiving the greatest number of votes cast. The election method shall be as determined by the President.

Section 6. Terms of Office. The terms of office for ex officio Directors shall be the same as their terms as officers of PLATO. The terms of office for At-large Directors shall be three years. Staggered elections shall be held to ensure that not all At-large Directors are elected at the same time and to maintain continuity in At-large Director representation. If an At-large Director is initially elected to serve the remainder of an existing term, then that Director will be eligible to be nominated for subsequent three year terms.

Section 7. Conflict of Interest. PLATO has formally adopted a Conflict of Interest policy which has been approved by the federal Internal Revenue Service for tax-exempt organizations, under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Each Officer and Director of PLATO shall annually sign a statement which affirms such person:

1. Has received a copy of the Conflict of Interest policy.
2. Has read and understands the policy.
3. Has agreed to comply with the policy.
4. Understands that PLATO is a charitable organization, and that to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities which accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes.

Section 8. Meetings. The Board of Directors shall meet at such times and places as may be necessary or appropriate, but in no case shall there be fewer than six meetings annually. Meetings shall be open to all members in good standing of PLATO.

Section 9. Meeting Conduct and Voting. A majority of actively serving Directors shall be necessary and sufficient to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the transaction of business, each Director shall have one vote. Unless otherwise provided in these Bylaws, the action of a majority of Directors at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be considered an act of the Board. Robert's Rules of Order shall be the procedural authority at all meetings.

Section 10. Vacancies. Any vacancy on the Board of an elected Director shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by majority vote of the remaining Directors.

Section 11. Responsibilities and Powers. The Board shall be responsible for establishing priorities and providing direction, control and planning for PLATO.

Section 12. Resignation. Directors may resign at any time by giving written notice to the President or Secretary of the organization. The resignation of an officer must be from both the office and the Board. Resignation shall be effective upon receipt of such notice.

ARTICLE XI—COMMITTEES

Section 1. Types of Committees. To further the interests of the organization the Board of Directors may appoint or dissolve such Standing, Special, or Ad Hoc committees as may be necessary or appropriate for the conduct of PLATO affairs. The Nominating Committee and the Agora Editorial Board shall be Special Committees of the Board.

Section 2. Standing Committee Standards. Each Standing Committee shall meet these standards:

1. Have an appropriate number of members as determined by the Committee Chair to carry out the mission of the committee.
2. Hold scheduled, periodic meetings at least four times each Administrative year.
3. Prepare and file minutes of each scheduled meeting with the PLATO Office.
4. Have a representative present at each regular meeting of the Board of Directors.

Section 3. Standing Committee Chairs and Members. The Chair (and Co-Chair, if appropriate) of Standing Committees shall be appointed annually by the PLATO President, after consultation with Committee members, and with concurrence of the Board of Directors. The term for Committee Chairs and members shall be one administrative year, although there is no limit to the number of successive terms they may serve.

Section 4. Nominating Committee. This Committee shall be chaired by the Immediate Past President of PLATO and shall include as members three other Directors or past Directors appointed annually by the President. This Committee is responsible for the following activities:

1. Identifying members who are willing and able to serve as officers, directors, and committee chairs for the organization.
2. Preparing and presenting to PLATO members a slate of candidate officers and directors, at least one month prior to the annual election.
3. Providing members reasonable opportunity for voting for the proposed slate of officers and directors, or for other nominations as may be put forward.

Section 5. Standing Committees, Special, and Ad Hoc Committees. Committees that may be appointed by the Board of Directors shall be furnished with a clear written charge and, if appropriate, a specific time for completion of the charge. Committees may exercise such powers as the Board confers, and shall make reports to the Board on activities and progress as the Board may request. Meeting minutes will be recorded and a permanent copy will be retained by the Committee Chair with a copy forwarded to the University/ DCS.

ARTICLE XII—CHARITABLE GIVING

Each fiscal year the Board of Directors shall determine the amount to be drawn from the PLATO Fund for charitable giving in the year and the recipient of these gifts. The emphasis shall be on adult educational programs that target the economically disadvantaged.

ARTICLE XIII--POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The Board of Directors may from time to time adopt Policies and Procedures involving matters essential to the organization's activities but not requiring codification and inclusion in the Bylaws. Such Resolutions may be adopted, revised, or rescinded by a majority vote of Directors as set forth in ARTICLE X, Section 9, and they will be attached to and archived with the Bylaws.

ARTICLE XIV—AMENDMENT

These Bylaws may be amended by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the Directors eligible to vote.

ARTICLE XV—DISSOLUTION

Upon dissolution of this organization, assets shall be distributed for one or more exempt purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or corresponding section of any future federal tax code, or shall be distributed to the federal government, or to a state or local government, for a public purpose.

GENERAL POLICIES

Management by the Board

The Board shall be responsible for control and management of the affairs and interests of the organization. Any changes in committee policies and procedures that affect the PLATO mission or have significant financial implications must be approved by the Board.

Copying

Committees: Use of the DCS (UW-Department of Continuing Studies) copy machine for committee work is legitimate. To the extent possible, committee materials should be distributed by email.

Courses: Coordinator use of the DCS machine for class organization, e.g., syllabi, class lists, is legitimate. Coordinators should communicate with and distribute handouts to class members as much as possible by email. Class members should be asked -and expect- to contribute to the costs of class materials. Copyright law must be respected.

Use of the Copy Machine: The number of copies made should be recorded on the sheet at the copy machine. Committee members and course coordinators should consolidate copying as much as possible to reduce the number of visits to the DCS copy machine. To the extent possible, for each committee and course there should be a designated "copier" who will be familiar with the machine, where paper is stored, etc.

FINANCIAL

Nonprofit Status

PLATO is a nonprofit corporation organized under Wisconsin law and is recognized by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service as a tax-exempt organization under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue code.

Memorandum of Agreement

PLATO is affiliated with the University of Wisconsin-Madison and its Department of Continuing Studies (DCS). UW-Madison and PLATO are parties to a Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) relating to the purchase of services from the University. This MOA is typically renegotiated every two years.

The MOA gives PLATO the option of operating directly with vendors or individuals from the University of Wisconsin-Madison Division of Continuing Studies. With transactions or contracts involving other entities within UW-Madison, or contract transactions such as bus trips, catering or facility use, with potential liability, PLATO members need to operate through UW-Madison Division of Continuing Studies and UW-Madison purchasing.

Expenditures

For transactions involving outside vendors, PLATO members should ensure that the purchase or obligation they are undertaking is within the budget of the relevant committee. In general, financial transactions other than bus trips, catering or facility use (which involve potential liability) should be handled within PLATO's traditional mechanism for reimbursement, including obtaining committee chair approval for purchases over $50 and forwarding invoices or receipts promptly to the PLATO Treasurer for payment or reimbursement.

Committees may spend budgeted funds without further approval. Committees wishing to make non-budgeted expenditures or spend on a budgeted item substantially in excess of the amount budgeted must obtain prior approval from the PLATO Board.

Budgets

Each spring, the Treasurer, with input from committee chairs, shall submit a proposed budget for the following fiscal year for Board approval.

CURRICULUM

Course Approval

New courses may be proposed by any member, following procedures established by the Curriculum Committee.

The Curriculum Committee anticipates approving proposals for new and ongoing courses submitted by potential and current course coordinators. The committee reserves the right to reject any course. The decision will be based on a review of the course's content, the interests or experience of the individual coordinating the course, and his/her willingness to abide by PLATO policies in leading the course.

Course coordinators and presenters are volunteers and do not receive remuneration for teaching.

Course Host Locations

Venues for PLATO courses include, but are not restricted to: senior centers, residential communities, libraries, churches, community centers and banks. Sites meeting the needs of members typically provide the following:

1. Ample parking.
2. A location close to city bus lines.
3. Accessibility for the physically handicapped.
4. Connections for audio-visual equipment and/or internet access. The equipment may be owned by the facility, PLATO or the course coordinator.

Fees paid to venues are determined by the PLATO Board.

Nonmember Participation

Nonmembers may attend the first two sessions of a course at no cost, but if they intend to continue with the course, they should join PLATO by paying the appropriate fee. Residents of host facilities are exempt from fees when participating in PLATO activities at their residence.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Managing Inappropriate or Unsafe Behavior

PLATO is committed to providing a welcoming, safe and respectful environment for all participants in PLATO's many local activities and on its various out of town events such as bus trips.

Event Coordinators have the responsibility for promoting and maintaining this welcoming and safe environment. PLATO Event and Associate Trip Coordinators should have patience, understanding and an awareness of the physical challenges and disabilities that some adults may face.

When necessary, respectful dialogue concerning any perceived inappropriate behavior should be initiated. Individuals should be reminded of the negative effects of such behavior on their fellow participants. Participation may be denied, temporarily or permanently, if a participant has displayed a history of inappropriate behavior. Event and Trip Coordinators can expect the full support of the Special Events Committee Chair and PLATO Board should any formal action be necessary.

(Approved August 21, 2015; Updated September 15, 2017)

Disability Issues

PLATO fully values the Americans with Disabilities Act and welcomes people with disabilities at its events. However, PLATO's Event Coordinators and Bus Drivers do not provide assistance with boarding and exiting the bus, navigating the venues or with Activities of Daily Living such as eating, taking medications or using the rest room. Participants unable to manage these necessary activities themselves must bring, at their expense, a companion to assist them.

Committee members will assess all venues and trips regarding mobility and disability issues. Information about hearing assistance and general mobility issues such as wheelchair availability, many stairs or much walking should be provided with each event's promotional materials.

(Approved September 15, 2017)

Nonmember Surcharge

There is a surcharge for nonmembers participating in PLATO special events (trips): $10 for programs costing less than $50 and $15 for programs costing $50 or more.

Trip Organizer Registration

The bus trip organizer will receive a free registration for organizing the trip and leading the tour. The bus trip assistant will also receive a free trip registration. If there is a second (or third) bus involved in the trip, the two additional bus trip assistants will each receive a free trip registration.

(Approved March 17, 2017)

Bus Trip Accessibility

Participants must be able to climb steps to board and exit the bus. Those who need assistance should be advised to bring a friend to provide the required assistance. Trip organizers will not be responsible for providing this assistance.

Trip Registration materials will describe accessibility limitations.

Refunding Trip Cancellations

This policy provides guidelines for refunds when trips are canceled and to establish a restricted trips' account (RTA) to pay for refunds and to pay for potential annual trip operating losses.

- Whenever a decision is made by the PLATO trip coordinator(s) to cancel Special Events Trip due to unforeseen circumstances, such as weather, all paid participants shall be entitled to a full refund.
- A surcharge of $3 will be added to each participant's trip fee to help fund a RTA to offset losses when trip cancellations occur.
- At the end of each fiscal year if there is an overall surplus of revenues over expenses for trips that surplus will be added to the RTA. If, at the end of the fiscal year there is an overall deficit of revenues and expenses, then that amount will be debited from the RTA, and added to the PLATO general revenues account.
- It is anticipated that there will be very few instances when trips will be canceled or that there will be overall annual operating losses for trips. Thus, it is anticipated that, over time, the RTA will accumulate sufficient funds to pay for these infrequent events. On an annual basis, the Treasurer, SE Chair, and the SE Trip Coordinator will review the status of the RTA to determine if adjustments to the surcharge or other actions need to be taken to preserve the adequacy of the funds available in the RTA.

MEMBERSHIP & COMMUNICATION

Fee Waiver/Modification

A person who cannot afford the annual PLATO membership fee should contact the PLATO Administrative Assistant. The PLATO Administrative Assistant will offer the person the option of joining for a reduced fee (50% of the established membership fee). The PLATO Administrative Assistant will keep this information confidential, and will only report aggregate numbers. This option will need to be renewed annually by the member. A complete fee waiver may only be implemented in unusual situations and with the approval of the PLATO President.

Member Information and Privacy Policy

PLATO maintains the following information about its members: name, address, telephone number, email address, year of birth, how they learned about PLATO, their areas of interest, whether they would be willing to share their knowledge and whether they would be willing to serve on a PLATO committee. Member information is stored in a secure database. PLATO only uses this information to benefit PLATO members. PLATO member information is never sold or provided to outside organizations for commercial purposes. This information may only be used for PLATO purposes.

(Approved September 19, 2014)

Member Directory Listing

PLATO provides a member directory to facilitate communications among PLATO members. The directory lists the member's name, address, telephone number and email address. Members may designate which items should be displayed or opt out of being listed in the directory by contacting the PLATO office. The directory will be in electronic format. Members wishing a paper copy may contact the PLATO office to request that a copy be mailed to them not more than once a year.

(Approved September 19, 2014; Updated November 20, 2015)

The University of Wisconsin-Madison Library System may access the electronic membership directory to facilitate issuance of UW Library Courtesy Cards to PLATO Members (a PLATO membership benefit).

(Approved May 15, 2015)

FUND DEVELOPMENT

Fund Development Expenses

The activities of the Fund Development Committee shall be entirely self-funded.

REVISION OF POLICIES

This document is to be reviewed annually and updated if needed.
