

Fallen

Ever fallen on your face or fallen from grace?

Fallen, oh sinner, away from your faith? Fallen in debt or too close to the tree?

Fallen in lately with bad company? Fallen in love, but soon out of favor?

Do your enemies' moves fall under your radar?

Have you fallen on hard times, or down on your knees?

Did your voice on the high notes fall slightly off key?

Would you fall on your sword, or fall out of line?

At work did the boss say you're falling behind?

Did your plea fall on deaf ears; your humor fall flat?

Did your wrestling match end with a fall on the mat?

Did you fall in a black hole, or one made by rabbits?

Fall off a pedestal due to bad habits?

Did the deal fall through; have sales fallen off?

Is the fall the one season you snuffle and cough?

Has the roof fallen in, the sky fallen down?

Is the long drive you hit falling just out of bounds?

Have you kissed a fallen angel, or caught a fallen star,

Did you fall off the stool at your neighborhood bar?

If so there is something you might want to heed:

The infallible physics of life's Gravity.
